Excerpt: . . . transformation. Furthermore, DOD has not clearly defined or institutionalized in directives the interrelationships, roles and responsibilities, or accountability for the various entities that make up its management framework for overall business transformation. For example, opinions differ within DOD as to which senior governance body will serve as the primary body responsible for overall business transformation. Some officials stated that the Defense Business Systems Management Committee would serve as the senior-most governance entity, while others stated that the Deputys Advisory Working Group, a group that provides departmentwide strategic direction on various issues, should function as the primary decision-making body for business transformation. Additionally, opinions differ between the two entities regarding the definition of DODs key business areas, with the Defense Business Systems Management Committee and the Business Transformation Agency using a broader definition of business processes than that of the Deputys Advisory Working Group and its supporting organizations. Until such differences are resolved and the department institutionalizes a management framework that spans all aspects of business transformation, DOD will not be able to integrate related initiatives into a sustainable, enterprisewide approach and to resolve weaknesses in business operations. As we have testified and reported for years, a successful, integrated, Critical Actions Are departmentwide approach to addressing DODs overall business Needed to Provide transformation requires two critical elements: a comprehensive, Comprehensive, integrated, and enterprisewide plan and an individual capable of providing Integrated, and Strategic full-time focus and sustained leadership both within and across Planning and Focused, administrations, dedicated solely to the integration and . . .
