Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.If you believe in education, then the Cwyane Farm House School is not for you. The petty, pseudo country club, private academy is approaching its demise in American culture. But then again, that s what Democratic Evolution is all about! As you read, you will see: The cars lined up outside the farm sized school house. The Beemers and Mercedes stretched the acreage and roadway until they reached the busy street running through this burgeoning suburban sprawl. Escalades and Volvos littered the landscape but only for show. They were leases. Such is the life of the social and wealthy wannabes. It s polyester on the cheap. The signage at this private school was of epic proportions. Stop, Go, No idling, Parking for 2.5 minutes only, This lane only, Turn only left after 8:03 am, Right lane ends, No soliciting, Avoid grass parking, Don t litter, New mother parking, Dr. John s Landscaping Surgery. They sell private billboards on the school property to raise money for the school. This entire roadway was perhaps the length of one half of a city block. The need for control was offensive. As the children prepared to leave from inside the building to play fun and games hopefully after school in some park or driveway, the true games were about to begin. They were games of astronomical importance for this ex-urb. The social climbing commences at the gym entrance. This is a true war of petty and frivolous social importance, indulgences and notoriety in a small hillbilly town. The battle of the aristocracy ensued on a suburban landfill. When the school children began to disembark at the end of the day, one could...
